Dear Mr. Jones:

This is an initial response to your Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request submitted via the Internet on 1 August 2013, which was received by this office on 1 August 2013, for "A detailed list of all invoices, contracts, status reports and account balance statements sent to and received from SAIC (Science Applications International Corporation), headquartered in Tysons Corner, Virginia, since January 2001." Your request has been assigned Case Number 73584. This letter indicates that we have begun to process your request. There is certain information relating to this processing about which the FOIA and applicable Department of Defense (DoD) and NSA/CSS regulations require we inform you.

For purposes of this request and based on the information you provided in your letter, you are considered an "all other" requester. You must pay for search time in excess of 2 hours and duplication in excess of 100 pages.

There is a two-pronged test a requester must satisfy to qualify for a fee waiver. First, the requested information must be in the public interest. Second, the request must not be primarily in the requester's commercial interest. The following six factors further define the two-pronged waiver test, and a requester must meet the first four factors to qualify under the public interest prong:

1. The subject of the request must concern the "operations and activities of the government."
2. The disclosure of information is "likely to contribute to an understanding of government operations and activities."
3. The disclosure of the requested information will "contribute to public understanding."

4. The disclosure is likely to contribute “significantly” to public understanding of government operations and activities.
5. The requester has a commercial interest that would be furthered by the requested disclosure.
6. Whether any identified commercial interest of the requester is sufficiently large, in comparison with the public interest in disclosure, thereby rendering the disclosure “primarily in the commercial interest of the requester.”

In analyzing these criteria, I have determined that you do not meet two of these factors. You have not provided evidence to sufficiently meet factor 3 regarding how the information will “contribute to public understanding.” This factor generally means that the requester can disseminate the information to the general public. You do not describe specifically your qualifications, the nature of your research, and the purpose for which you intend to use the requested information. Specialized knowledge may be required to extract, synthesize, and effectively convey the information to the public. You do not demonstrate with particularity that the information will be communicated to the public, other than posting the records to a web site. You do not provide evidence of past analysis on this subject matter nor any evidence of past use of materials gained through FOIA requests. Furthermore, you do not provide an indication of your ability to understand and process the information such that the public will be able to interpret your analysis of the records.

Therefore, for the reasons described above, you also do not meet factor 4. You have not shown how this information will “significantly” contribute to public understanding of government operations or activities. To warrant a waiver, the public’s understanding of the information, as compared to the level of public understanding existing prior to the disclosure, must be likely to be enhanced by the disclosure to a significant extent. Moreover, without demonstration of an expertise in the subject area, an ability to editorialize and disseminate the information, and an ability to increase the public’s understanding in a meaningful way, a “significant” contribution to public understanding is not likely.

After reviewing your request, I have determined that you do not meet the standards of factors 3 and 4 of the public interest prong. You do not qualify for a fee waiver because you have not satisfied the public interest requirement of the FOIA.

Expending your two free hours of search, your request has been processed under the provisions of the FOIA. A thorough search of our files was conducted, but no record responsive to your request was located, because there is no list of
